TUESDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1863.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

London. Buenos Ayres. and River Plate Bank.

An extraordinary meeting of the shareholders was held yesterday in the London Tavern. Mr. H. Bauos presided.

The Chairman said the meeting was called to confirm resolutions passed by the board of directors on the 13th of October, to increase the existing capital of the company from 500,000l to 1,000,000 sterling by the creation of 25,000 new shares of 25l each. He begged to explain that no call would be made on the original shares until a proportionate amount was called up on the new shares, making 10l on each clases of shares. The board did not intend to make any call upon the new shares before February next. The utmost amount of a call would be 2l 10s., and two months would elapse between the calls. Interest at the rate of five per cent would be allowed on all prepayments up to fifty per cent. of the entire amount payable. The premium on the new shares would be applied to the formation of a reserve fund. He had gone into the accounts to the 31st of August, and he saw every reason to believe that they would pay a dividend which ought to satisfy the reasonable expectations of the shareholders. (Hear, hear.) They proposed this increase of capital to meet the increase of business. They felt they would not be doing justice to themselves and to the public if they not increase the amount of capital so as to afford those who placed confidence in them the security to which they were undoubtedly entitled. They had two branches under different Governments —the Government of Buenos Ayres and the Government of Montevideo—but it was desirable to show that the company had ample security to entitle them to obtain the right which they claimed. He had gone over all the returns up to the latest period, and he had the satisfaction to say that he could not perceive a bad debt. In conclusion he begged to say that the yearly returns of the 13th of October to increase the capital be confirmed. The new shares would be entitled, pro rata, to the same dividend as to the old shares.

In reply to a question,

The Chairman said that they had proposed to have £25 shares, instead of £100 shares, at the urgent request of a great body of the shareholders

The resolution was put and carried, and the proceedings terminated.

GRENT SOUTHERN OF BS. AYRES.—At an extraordinary general meeting of the shareholders was held yesterday at the offices, Cannon-street; Mr. B. West, head. M. P., in the chair.

The Chairman congratulated the shareholders on the prospect which now awaited them, from the increased confidence in the paying value of the line, irrespective Government guarantee, as shown by the handsome manner in which the contractor, Messrs. Peto and Betts, had taken up their portion of the 80,000 l. short guaranteed by the Government.

Resolutions were passed approving and accepting the arrangement with the Government of Buenos Ayres, fixing under the contract the cost of the railway at 700,000l; approving and authorizing the arrangement with Sir M. Peto, M.P., and Mr. E. L. Betts, for the purchase of 2,000 deferred preference shares of 20l. each in the capital of the company, to be entitled to interest during construction; and the amount available for dividend in any year was to be applied, after payment of a dividend of 7 per cent. per annum on the ordinary shares, and repayment to the Government of any advances previously made under the guarantee, to a payment on the special shares of 7 per cent. per annum.

The proceedings concluded with a vote of thanks to the chairman and directors.

UNITED STATES.

Washington, Oct. 23—22:48 p. m.

It is rumored widely that Meade was superseded this morning by Sedgwick, but the rumor is untrue. The Chronicle, however, announces that General Meade says our army cannot move for three weeks on account of the destruction of the railroads.

LATER.

General Meade, it is being able to get through his business with the President in time, did not return to the front till this morning. It is authoritively settled that he is not to be superseded. There is nothing new on the front. The story in the Richmond papers, of the 18th, that Lee has taken seven thousand prisoners from Meade in the late campaign, is entirely mythical.

ANOTHER DISPATCH.

Washington October 23.,

Major-General Meade, after a brief visit to Washington, returned to his headquarters, yesterday.

Cavalry reconnoissances are continued on our part as far as the Rappahannock. The Orange and Alexandria Railroad has already been repaired one mile beyond Bristow Station. Forces are engaged day and night in repairing the damages of the enemy.

Reports from the army say the discipline and morale of the army were never better than at the present time, and both officers and men have the greatest confidence in the ability General Meade.

The signal corps have earned additional honors during the late campaign. Among other valuable services, it first discovered the movements of the enemy from the Rapidan to Madison Court House, and thence via Sperryville to Warrenton, thus enabling General Meade to adopt such measures as resulted in defeating Lee's plans. The corps attached to the Army of the Potomac is under the direction of Captain Morton, who is a son of the president of Pauquier and Prince William counties is represented as painful, there being scarcely a single species of the necessaries of life. They are bordering on starvation.

It is estimated that 1,000 men will cover all our losses in the late campaign including killed, wounded, stragglers and prisoners.

Important from Chattanooga

Defeat of the Confederates.

New York, Oct. 20.

General Thomas reports that General Hooker was attacked at midnight upon the 20th inst. Severe fighting ensued, lasting two hours, and with less vehemence, until four o'clock. At seven o'clock General Hooker reported that the troops repulsed the enemy's attack; driving them from every position they assumed.

The Confederates abandoned Look Out Mountain without resistance, and the Federals occupy the south bank of the river from Bridgeport to Chattanooga. The river and railroad communication are unobstructed, facilitating supplies reaching General Thomas.

POLAND.

MOURAVIEFF'S VENGEANCE.

The Posen Journal publishes the following account of an act of vengeance committed by Mouravieff on a Pole, Sierskowski, an insurgent chief:—

Mme. Dalecka, mother of Sierskowski, and her two sons, were banished to Siberia; Mme. Sierskowski, who was near her confinement, and moreover in bad health, remained at Vilna. On Mouravieff hearing that she was on the point of betowing a mother, he gave orders that she should be carried on her bed to the railway station, that the child should not be born before it reached the foundling hospital at Cracow, and the mother be afterwards banished into the interior of Russia. The office of gendarmerie charged with the execution of this order went with him to the house of which the lady and her children were in the railway station. While on the way Sierzakowski insulted, and afterwards fell into convulsions. The train having just started, Mme. Sierskowski was left at the station, and the officer went to Mouravieff and gave him an account of what had taken place, and of the indignation which had been excited by it in the town. Mouravieff replied that he had given the order for the purpose of provoking that indignation, which he did not fear. He then sent a Russian midwife to attend on the lady, and to take her with the train on the way to Cracow, which order was executed to the letter.

JAPAN.

(From the London and China Telegraph)

One cannot but regret, when such valuable lives as those of Captains Jones and Wilmot, with eleven British seamen, have been sacrificed, that 180,000 harmless people burned out of house and home in Kagoima, that the town should be wantonly destroyed in the arrogance and disregard for national customs of a party of our countrymen, who we may say deliberately rushed on their own destruction. The Japanese authorities intimated that it was desirable that foreigners should not be riding on the Tokaido, or open public road, on the 15th of September last, because it was probable that Daimios with their hosts of feudal retainers unaccustomed to the sight of foreigners, would be travelling on it. This was notified to the community. On the evening of the 14th. Mr. Richardson a young man proceeding home from China with a fortune, was visiting Japan on the way. That same evening he had intended returning to Shanghae by her Majesty's despatch boat Renard. At the request of Mrs. Borrodgile, a Hong Kong merchant's wife, also a visitor to Japan to prolonged his stay, and accompanied her, Messrs. Marshall and Clarke, on their injudicious ride to the Tokaido that evening. They met for a considerable extent of the road Daimios' retainers, and commence some ought to have dictated to them, or to learn, as they knew perfectly that they must shortly come in contact with a Daimio himself, which they did, meeting Satsuma Sabroo, the father of the Prince of Satsuma, and which, unfortunately, occurred at a point just beyond a defile where the passage is narrow; here the mounted party came in direct collision with the Daimio himself, and in place of getting off the road, which they could have done with the greatest ease, they remained upon it, drawing to one side only They were then attacked, when they immediately got off the road, but by this time the fatal blows had been received by Richardson. That any blows were aimed at Mrs. Borrodaile the Japanese deny; they never strike at women with cutting instruments, and facts tend to support their statement, inasmuch as Mrs. Borrodaile's hat, as stated, was not cut in two, but picked up entire, having been lost by her in her flight. The story about her riding into the sea, preferring drowning to murder, is in advance of the fact; her pony took her through a swamp on his way to regain the road.

ITALY.

Turin, Nov. 7.

The National Bank has raised its rate of discount to 7 per cent.

The Liberal press unanimously applaud the Emperor Napoleon's speech at the opening of the French Chambers.

The "Opinione" says:—"Italy must accept as a happy event the proclamation of the nullity of the treaties 1815. If a Congress is possible it will not be Italy who would be responsible for the evils Italy foreseeing coming events must prepare to take up arms."

The "Stampa" will not enter into any negotiations for the sale of Nice. It considers the speech favourable to Italy because it proclaims the principles of public right on which the Italian Kingdom is established.

The 'Perseverance' says that the part of Italy, either in a congress or in a war, would be to recover her full national right.

AUSTRIA.

Vienna, Nov. 7.

The Union Bank is in a state of dissolution. The grantees have refused to come to an understanding with persons wishing to purchase the privilege, occasioning the English and Austrian Directors to withdraw from the undertaking.

Prince Metternich leaves here this evening for Paris.

At the sitting of the Lower House of the Reichsrath to-day a credit of sixty-nine millions was unanimously granted by the House without debate.

The Vienna press considers this to be a demonstration against the French Emperor's speech.

MEXICO.

Marshal Forey's Farewell.

Marshal Forey, when on the point of leaving Mexico, published the following order of the day to the troops:—

Mexico, 20th September.

From the 1st October General Bazaine will take the command-in-chief of the expeditionary corps. Soldiers the Emperor placed me at your head to lower the pride of the pretended government of Guadalajara, of Taking Puebla, and to restore Mexico to itself by driving from the capital a Government which was founded upon treason too long filled this fine country with ruin and misery. The pleasure I feel at the thought of returning to our beloved France is dashed with the regret that I owe the marshal's baton much more to your bravery, perseverance, and devotion than to my own merit. With soldiers like you, what obstacles are insurmountable, what victory doubtful? But I take with me the regret that I shall not share the labors you have yet to accomplish, I flatter myself that you too, will feel some regret for one who has constantly endeavored to anticipate your wants, to reward your merits, and exalt your martial virtues whose very name will give our army its superiority, and which you will not cease to practice under your new chief. He needs no panegyric from me. You know him as well as I do, and to speak only of his services in Mexico, remember San Lorenzo, where, at the head of a few battalions, he destroyed a whole corps d'armée. Remember also the taking of the forts of San Xavier and of Totimehuacan at Puebla, which was accomplished under his skilful direction. You will therefore be proud to have such a chief at your head. If you have new battles to fight you will be certain of victory, and your old general will rejoice at your success-es, though he no longer shares them. And when, in your turn, you come back to France, if the fortune of war should again place me at your head, I shall be proud once more to command my brave soldiers of Mexico.

FOREY.

The Marshal also issued an address to the Mexicans, in which, after announcing his departure, he expresses his regret that he had not fully succeeded in constituting a grand national party, by means of which he hoped to see Mexico regenerated, but that he nevertheless felt confident that such a desirable end would one day be accomplished, with the aid of Providence, through the instrumentality of the Emperor Napoleon.

THE PAPAL STATES.

Rome, Nov. 7.

The waggon, laden with stores, which was passing the bridge over the Tiber, fell into the river, owing to neglect to close the barriers. No person was hurt, and the communication with the city is not interrupted. An uniform rate of two baiocchi is henceforth to be charged upon letters within the Papal dominions.

The National Committee has published a pamphlet containing fresh documents relating to the Chevalier Fausti.

SWEDEN AND DENMARK.

A Copenhagen letter, in the Cologne Gazette states that the treaty of alliance between Sweden and Denmark, which has been so much spoken of, was signed on the 20th October. In the political circles of the Danish capital it is thought that the military co-operation of Sweden will take place from the moment of the entry of the federal troops into Holstein. The southern part of Schleswig would in that case be occupied by the Swedish troops in such a manner as to permit the Danish army to concentrate all its efforts upon Rendsburg and the tete-du-pont of Friedrichstadt, which are the most important strategical points in Holstein.

THE JAPANESE DISPUTE

Berne, Nov. 7.

Advices have been received from the Swiss Embassy at Yokohama, announcing that the ambassadors have received a first official reply from one of the chief officers of the Tycoon. The ambassadors believe that American and Russia are pursuing an ambiguous policy, and exciting the Japanese to resist the other Powers.

MANIFESTO OF THE KING OF THE GREEKS

Trieste, Nov. 6.

Advices received here from Athens, state that the King of the Greeks on his arrival there issued a manifesto, of which the following is a summary—

"I bring neither ability to govern nor talent. Intentions, but sincere love for the people. I believe in the future identity of our destinies. I shall endeavour to love Greek customs, and shall respect your manners and language. I shall strictly observe the constitution, and shall surround myself with the most experienced men of the country, without regarding old political divisions, and shall make Greece the model State of the East."

Loss of the Amazon.

The New York packet ship the Amazon, has been totally destroyed by fire. She sailed from Gravesend on Saturday with numerous passengers and a general cargo. On Tuesday evening, when off the North Foreland, she was found to be on fire. Endeavours were made to extinguish the flames, but without success; and the crew and passengers were compelled to betake themselves to the boats. They saved nothing but their lives.

CONSULAR CERTIFICATES.

The indiscriminate arrest of foreigners throughout the camp districts has caused a well-founded burst of indignation against the Government.

After a most scrupulous inquiry into the cause, we have succeeded in discovering that the justices of the peace in the parishes are the principal agents of this annoyance.

The Government, knowing that the camp abounded with deserters, issued orders for the apprehension of all those found without a "papelleta." These unsophisticated executors of the law, called justices of the peace, instead of limiting their arrests to the runaways of Pavon, directed their attention to harmless foreigners who had recently arrived in this country.

We feel much pleasure, therefore, in contradicting the rumour that this plan had been resorted to, to throw paper dollars into the pockets of the Consuls.

General Parish, we are quite certain, is as innocent of the affair as ourselves, still perhaps it is right that we should inform him that people now always believe with 'Machiavel' the true way to discover the author of an act is to see who are the gainers by it.

We have yet to learn by what act, statute, or law these arrests are authorised; we hold that they are illegal, and we insist that if there is any justice in the country our imprisoned countrymen are entitled to heavy damages.

The case is so clear that it hardly admits of any argument. The injustice and illegality of the recent arrests are so palpable, that we demand the immediate punishment of the judges by whose orders these imprisonments were made.

If these papelletas, or certificates of nationality, which the Consuls are issuing are necessary, they certainly should be issued by the Argentine Consul at the ports from whence foreigners embark for this country, and not by the Consuls here, who know as much about the birthplace of half the people to whom they give certificates as they do or the great inconvenience this new rule has caused.

We speak advisedly, because we are told of parties who hold these certificates, and yet never saw even foreign soil.

A man who sails from Liverpool, Dublin, or Southampton for this country naturally enough inquires before leaving, what papers he requires to take with him. The Argentine Consul assures him that he is going to a land of 'milk and honey'—a land of such an advanced state of civilization that no passports are necessary. He arrives here, remains in the city for a while looking for employment; he ultimately goes to the camp, scarce is he there when he is arrested.

Now, we ask, who can justify the conduct of the Government in this step? Who is there who does not see the arbitrary and despotic act of ignorance in such acts?

What Argentine law requires a foreigner to have a consular certificate? What article is it that invalidates proof testimony of witnesses before a country judge, and legalizes it before the Consul?

We call upon the 'Nacion Argentina,' which is the organ of the Government, to answer us on these points.

We call upon the holder of a passport from the Foreign Office in London obliged to apply to Mr. Parish for his certificate? We deny it; and yet passports are all abolished; we insist that consular certificates should be also.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Consul's office, we hear, is crowded, acclimatizing Irishmen at the low charge of thirty dollars each. It is said that the much-abused Chief of Police does not at all approve of the business, and that he has liberated all that were sent in, suggesting that the Government should begin the acclimatization system in town first, so that the poor industrious labourers in the camp may have notice in time.

Our office was crowded yesterday with residents of all nationalities, who came to congratulate us upon the Mole being mended. When it was known through town that the 'hole' was stopped, there was a thrill of joy through the city. On Sunday the Retiro was deserted, as the Parque not a soul to be seen; but the Mole—the Mole—thousands and thousands were there. Our victory could not be more complete. Forster, who could hardly credit the good news, went down to see for himself, and, finding that it was really the fact, jotted down, on the spur of the moment, a few extemporaneous verses, which will be found in another column.

We regret to inform our readers that yesterday morning the Tramway carriages were thrown off the line by the 'Standard' Supplements. The way it occurred was—the poor who was carrying up the bundle of Supplements, getting tired, he act them down on the tramway, which was about the cleanest place he could find to lay them on, and did not hear the approaching train until it was up on him. He had scarcely time to get off the line without thinking of the unfortunate Supplements. The driver drove on, when suddenly the pavement felt a shock, and off she goes, conch, horses, drivers, and passengers. The people got out to see what had been the cause of the accident. That it was their counternation to perceive that the 'Standard' Supplements and London 'Times' had knocked them off the track. The unhappy Mauá was seized and marched off to prison, but Mr. Cazon, when he heard that he was engaged by the Mole, set him free in a matter of course, as once liberated him. Mr. Cazon, Argerich has not heard of this). We got our Supplements, thanks to the efforts of an English merchant. Parties who have not received their Supplements will please send round to our office without delay, as, owing to the venality of our deliverers, we cannot send them round to subscribers' houses.

Sunday was a great day in Belgrano. The heat was fearful, but the fun was splendid; the races, the 'carne con cuero,' the music, all combined to make people forget that they were being broiled like a mutton chop; but there was no oration, Quilmes outdid it in that respect. There was no row, however, although in the afternoon there were a number of persons looking up the policemen in order to have a little amusement. As a matter of course, Mr. Deacon's house was so thronged that there was hardly getting in or out. The 'carro con carne' outside did not in the least interfere with his business. San Isidro was also crowded. Along the river in the afternoon nearly all the belles of town were to be seen strolling and some bathing. More than half of the excursionists had to remain out of doors for want of room for any possible way of accommodating them in the last train.

The Mersey arrived early on yesterday morning. Amongst the passengers we notice the British Minister, Mr. Thornton and lady. On behalf of the British residents in the province, we extend to them a cordial welcome, after their prolonged absence.

The time for strolling, or having what is called here 'papelletas,' has been postponed until the 8th of April next.

We hear that his Excellency the Minister of Education will shortly leave for Cordova. We hope that carriages are more abundant in that province than in Entre Rios.

From Montevideo there is not a particle of news. Gomez, we hear, is Commander-in-Chief. Our friend Old, or Halliday, not having as many friends as he has in the Government House. Flores is also running up and down the coast of the Uruguay again, but nobody asks to follow him.

The Paraguyan steamer arrived on Sunday, and left for Montevideo yesterday morning. We regret to say, she brings us no news of our gossypium plants.

The talk of war with the Banda Oriental is gradually dying off. People say that the President agrees with the Opposition, that war is not the time to make war against the Oriental Republic.

It is rumoured that in the event of our not having a war with Montevideo, a revolution will be got up by the Rosario route. We cannot well see how this can be, but such is the story.

Our 'Old Bond Street' friends are evidently determined to provoke another battle with the 'Standard.' In their supplement yesterday, the only news of importance from England, was a motion against Lord Palmerston for adultery; the lady in question is, of course, Irish. We have looked through all the London papers, and can find no mention of it about it; even in our supplement, which we regard as an authority on such matters, there is no mention of it; we, therefore, opine that it is a 'Tribuna' humbug.

Any person who can give information of Mr. Fisher, Cattle Inspector, resident near Moreno, will please send same to this office, as his friends in the camp are beginning to get very anxious about him, and that he has fallen a victim to some foul play.

The Brazilian gunboat left on Sunday morning with the supplemental mail for the Saintonge, which we understand was unusually large.

We remark Boutinet's failure is mentioned in the London Times. How these fellows did make themselves celebrated.

Our readers must not forget that today Mr. Marshall will launch his great Gualeguaychuan steamer at 11 o'clock sharp. We hope it will come off well, and regret sincerely our inability to attend.

The Brazil and River Plate mail has at last made its appearance in London; we have received a reprint of the 'Standard.' Parties wishing to subscribe can do so at our office.

It affords us no small pleasure to inform our readers that 'Gaudin Padre' won on Sunday. He is a mestiza, and as such we take the greatest interest in his success.

The young man who was stabbed some months since on the bench, is now completely recovered, and about to leave the hospital.

Any of our friends who want to purchase a nice little place in the camp we have received them to take us up to Zarate, a piece of ground half a league long, and two thousand five hundred yards wide, is offered for sale dead cheap.

A subscriber has sent us some very interesting hints on the latest American inventions, for want of space we are obliged to hold them over, but if H. E. Jolly Obes is the man we hope he is, he will dispatch an agent at once to the States to purchase the accessories of turning Martin Garcia, or wasting the public money.

Owing to a slight mistake, we published the Mauá Bank statement incorrectly last Saturday. We now, however, give it to the public in its proper form.

H. E. Reynolds' museum is fair opening on next Sunday. Persons anxious to get a real perfect identical fac simile of the same man, should rush to Mr. Reynoldt's photographic gallery on top of the Standard office.

The Acclimatization Society.

Moreno, Dec. 13th, 1863.

The foreigners in the camp of yesterday were not precisely Irishmen, but Italians. The crusade is not particularly against Irishmen, but against all men that have not a papelleta upon themselves, either native or foreign, of any nationality whatever.

Yours faithfully,
C.

Latest from Guardia del Monte.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE STANDARD.

Gentlemen,

Guardia del Monte, Dec. 8, 1863

As "King Cotton" and his brother chum "Virginny" have addressed you from this portichi, I begin to feel so jealous of their 'awful' courage in attempting to write in the "Standard," the multi-paper of the River Plate, albeit the former's reluctance of rushing into print, that my fingers itches to be likewise honored; but I almost regret now that I ever commenced to write, it has all 'skedadled' out of my head. However for a commencement I guess, 'the whole hog or none.' It is quite impossible, Mr. Editors, to give you a just idea of our camps, from the dreadful scea which we are now suffering from. There is not a blade of grass to be seen, not drop of water to be had in the camps; the very water which forms the 'lagoon' close to the monte is so stagnent and repulsive that the animals refuse to touch it, and the greater number of those sheep which have drunk of it during the past fortnight have died from its injurious effects. The banks of this said 'laguna' are strewn with dead fish, and the water you can smell for leagues, thus showing how putrid the water must be. We are all drawing water both for sheep and cattle; those who have no jarwell are obliged to draw water from their wells by hand, which is a very tedious and tiresome & regular shirtwinds of dust fly past us every moment, as if they would swallow us up. The state of things here is really dreadful: it is pitiful to contemplate the future, and where are the bright hopes and fortunes which you every day hold out to the newly arrived of the sheep farming business, if we are to be subject to these fearful droughts, to these deserts of dust. In vain we wish and sigh, in vain we pray for rain, but no rain cometh; each passing cloud is watched and speculated upon; each sunset is discussed with a vigour that would do credit to your ounce brokers, but all in vain, no rain gladdeneth our eyes.

The Bishop, Dr. Escalada, has been here for the last fortnight, performing the sacred duties of his holy office. I have not yet heard when he intends to leave this for town, but I suppose it will be soon. His holy presence seems to have spread a religious and quiet feeling over the whole partido. I think it would be very beneficial if he or his successors would make more regular periodical visits to the camp towns, it would I think also give a stimulus to education. Tuesday will be a grand gala day in the Monte, as the ceremony of laying the foundation-stone of a new church in the 'Plaza nueva' is to take place; several balloons are to be set loose to travel over regions unknown, and innumerable fireworks of all descriptions are to be set off; everything is to be on a grand scale, and jollification is to be the order of the day. I will give you more particulars after the ceremony. On Sunday morning a most disastrous fire took place at the French bakery in the monte, burning down all the bake house and utensils, also his head-dining machine. The fire was very bad only changed hands two days before, a sad beginning for the purchaser. Had the wind been east, I am told half the town would have been down, as the houses in that direction were nearly all thatched, whereas the only house near it in the direction the wind was blowing was an 'azotea.'

I must now conclude, begging you to join me in calling upon all good Christians to say 'Amen,' when his toll we "Ask and ye shall receive, knock and it shall be opened unto you," for a gracious rain from his inexhaustible store in heaven. Wishing you the compliments of the season, I remain

A DOWNRIGHT SOUTHERNER.

NORTHERN RAILWAY

TO THE EDITORS OF THE STANDARD.

You would oblige me, and many others, by the insertion of the following remarks, addressed to the Directors of the Northern Railway:—

"I think that the present system of demanding tickets, inside the carriages, may be prejudicial to the company, and is inconvenient to the public. Suppose a party should wish to get to Belgrano by the guard walks in; tickets, gentlemen. The train arrives, and those who wish, descend. What check have the servants of the company that all have taken tickets, and particularly on such days as last Sunday, when the rush for seats was awful? To avoid which we should propose that the platform be cleared, and the passengers allowed to go out by some gate. This would secure the company against any loss, and save the passengers a great deal of inconvenience.

"Another cause of complaint is, that on holidays more tickets are sold than what the carriages will hold. To obviate this difficulty I should propose that the office be opened an hour before the departure of each train, and only sell as many tickets as the train will conveniently hold. Thus a great many quarrels, oaths, and what is almost as bad, the awful rushes, would be put a stop to. I hope the director will take my friendly hints, in the spirit they are penned, and in benefitting the company, pleasing the public, they would also confer a favour on

"A DAY TRAVELLER."

The Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland and the Fenian Agitation.

The Lord-Lieutenant has returned the following reply to the address presented to him by the gentry at Galway:—"Castle Howard, 2nd Dec. 1863.—My lords and gentlemen, I cannot fail to feel deeply touched and gratified by the terms of the address which you have been pleased to deliver unto me. Any want of hospitability was certainly the last contingency to which I expected to be exposed upon the soil of Ireland. Nor could I doubt the high spirit of loyalty which pervades the genial and generous county of Galway. I have only to regret that I thought myself bound in my representative capacity to notice the disconcurrence to which you refer more seriously than might otherwise have been necessary. I feel glad to have this opportunity of stating that some months I have seen of the event in question scarcely do justice to the persons who were assembled at the hotel. I could dwell on their zeal in the demonstration of my feeling but of respect, and, I will add, of regret.—I have the honour to be, my lords and gentlemen, your very faithful and gratitude servant, —(Signed) CARLISLE.—The Marquis of Clanricarde, K. P., &c."

WOOL

The sales of colonial wool to-day have passed off steadily without change in prices. The following is the report of Messrs. Bradbury and Cook's circular of English wool:—"The second periodical sale of English wool, by public auction, takes on the 4th, at the wool sale rooms, London, commanded a very large attendance of buyers from our own manufacturing districts, and there was also a very spirited competition on the part of buyers from the Continent. The advance realised on bright-haired wools, since the last sale in July, was 2½d. to 2½d. per lb. Kent wool sold at 2s. to 2s. 2d. per lb. There was a fair assortment of wool from other countries; and whilst the advance on all long-stapled flocks was fully 1½d. per lb. Downs and other shorter descriptions sold at only a slight advance on the prices lately current."

THE HOLE IN THE MOLE.

The Editor walked in the evening gloom,
For he had been waiting all day in his room.
And his spirit within him got blythe and gay,
When he felt on the soft breeze on his forehead play—

But on reaching the Mole his temper was tried,
For there, right athwart of his path, he spied,
A hole in the Mole, as plain could be,
Placing his life in jeopardy.

Oh! the hole in the Mole. Oh! the hole in the Mole.

"It grieves me," quoth he, "to see such a sight,
And, oh! caption, be sure thou't the first to feel,
The danger of my valorous pan of steel."
Away he went, and his efforts were spent,
In vain to induce them to fill up this hole;
'Till departing, he cried, "Oh, why thus decide,
My calkers are to get this want supplied."

Oh! the hole in the Mole, &c.

He wrote, then, at night, and he wrote not too, by day,
And in vain and in vain, till a week passed away—
In laughter, in scornful, in jocular style,
In writing were with ones, but all futile.

And weeks flew by, till his grievance at length
Was discussed as one of the many long patches.

When the 'Standard' appeared, the folks to a soul,
Cried, "Anything more of the hole in the Mole."

Oh! the hole in the Mole, &c.

At length the old captain, aroused from his lair,
Resolved to fill up this terrible gap—
In place of the boards which lay mouldering
He sent some which were found, in most perfect repair.
Now, joy! for the Editor's pen! is at rest,
No longer he'll serve up this threadbare jest—
And we trust, that in taking, his evening stroll,
No longer he'll meet with the 'Hole in the Mole.'

Oh! the hole in the Mole, &c.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

Bad Legs, Ulcerous Sores, Bad Breasts, and Old Wounds.

No description of wound, sore, or ulcer can resist the healing influence of this celebrated Ointment. Its first use is to rapidly cleanse it from all impurities whatever: this accomplished it gradually but surely heals from the bottom of the wound to the formation of the surrounding skin. Neither pain nor confinement need be endured, as the Ointment is perfectly innocuous.

Rheumatism, Gout, and Neuralgia.

Nothing but the power of industry and discretion can exhibit the wonderful effects of this Ointment. Its searching properties penetrate to the very seat of pain, and by its action on the blood and nervous system, the cause is entirely removed. Rheumatism, Gout, and Neuralgia, disappear simultaneously, and the use of these medicines by parties are warm circumstances, if the use of these medicines by parties need be.

Sore Throats, Diphtheria, Quinsey, Mumps, and all other Derangements of the Throat.

On the appearance of any of these maladies the Ointment should be rubbed on the throat three times a day, and the Pills taken as per directions. Any one of these will be found sufficient to check and subdue the disease in its early stage, but in all cases of confirmed disease the two remedies should be used in the following manner:—

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bad Breasts	Chilblains	Fistulas	Piles	Sore-throats
Bad Legs	Chapped Hands	Gout	Rheumatism	Skin Diseases
Burns	Corns	Head	Scalds	Scrofula
Bunions	Coco-bay Sores	Jaundice	Scurvy	Stiff Joints
Bite of Moschetoes	Chiego Face	Lumbago	Sore Breasts	Ulcers
Coco-bay Foot	Chigoe Foot	Piles	Sore Throats	Wounds
Coco-bay Itch	Chiego Itch	Ringworm	Sore Legs

Great and Useful Invention.

No more Mortality for want of Water.

Sure wealth to Estancieros

By the Robert Apparatus.

Being anxious to save the immense injury occasioned by the scarcity of water during the long seeas that afflicts the camps of Buenos Aires, I have determined to dedicate to the Estancieros an Apparatus at once simple and infallible for procuring as much water as they may desire.

120 Bordalesas por hour (it seems fabulous) is procured with my apparatus, without the cost of at any time its getting out of order.

This machine is worked by one horse, and in one day's work can give 1440 Bordalesas that is to say, sufficient water for 20,000 head of cattle.

By these figures can be calculated the immense advantages gained by its use.

Another advantage is the facility of putting it together and taking it to pieces, so as to be able to transport it to any place where it may be necessary to use it, either for watering purposes or others.

GREAT MODIFICATION.

I have made an improvement in my Apparatus, supplying a new system, which reduces the necessary force by thirds, giving it at the same time more rapidity.

Those interested can see it at Calle Moreno, No. 816 (Honorredo, Paris).

One sole inspection of the Apparatus will prove to them the superiority of it over any other. ROBERT.

The want for a long been felt of an establishment wherein the frugal and laborious citizen might deposit his savings so as to incur no risk, and reap at the same time a good return.
This institution is calculated to answer such a purpose extending the benefits of the establishment to even the humblest classes.
Public attention is, therefore, specially called to the manner of subscriptions, and the inversion of funds, according to the rules of the association.
The Previsora Argentina will receive subscriptions as follows:
1st. On one's own life, in shares of 25 silver each. These subscriptions liquidated at any time, at the subscriber's time and option.
2nd. Without loss of capital and interest by death of the insurer. Subscribers will be entitled to compound interest on their subscriptions and on the proportional interest forfeited by the death of other shareholders in their Class, whose capital, however is returned.
3rd. With loss of capital and interest by a insurer's death. All shareholders of this class shall gain compound interest on their subscriptions, besides a proportional part of the capital and interest of all who die in their Class.
All these subscriptions may be paid weekly, monthly, quarterly, half yearly, or yearly.
The capital of the Co. shall be invested only in landed property (fincas), and with the greatest security.
The Board of Inspection, composed of subscribers, shall have charge of all the operations of the Co.
For further particulars, apply at the Co's office 87 S. Martin [altos] between the hours of 11 — 4; prospectuses given on application.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUÁ & C°.

— No. 103 calle de Cangallo. —

BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence
The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depositary for their savings.
The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.
These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of want, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the general gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities.
The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No. 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.
The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.
The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part, of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.
The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.
The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.
Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.
p. p. Mauá & Co.
WILLIAM LESLIE.

CONDITIONS.

1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.
2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent [6 p$] per annum which is liquidated every six months
3rd. The depositor can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.
4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency or one thousand dollars silver the depositor if he wishes can open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.
5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

The shearing time being at hand, the Inventor of the Anti-Scab Specific for curing Cutaneous Diseases in Sheep, and all domestic Animals, begs to inform the Estancieros that it can never be applied to such effect as after shearing, when it not only cures the worst cases, but acts as a preservative against the disease.
The simplest method is bathing the animal, whether sound or effected, in the manner prescribed by the instructions.
The Specific has been already found an effectual remedy for Insects (Garrapatas).
Numerous certificates may be seen showing the high repute of the Specific throughout S. America. Its low price places it within the reach of all. 25lb. sufficient for 800 or 1000 Sheep. It contains no poisonous quality, and is sold at the above Depots.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR SCHOOL,
CALLE LARGA DE BARRACAS.
Doc.—Mr. Pongerard, of the London University College.
This Establishment, which from its foundation has been patronised by the principal British families of Buenos Ayres, is an exact reproduction of an English School, where a sound commercial education combined with an accurate knowledge of the French and Spanish languages is imparted to the pupils, and based upon the same system as in all first class European institutions of the kind.
An open-air exercise and constant super vision, and a strict maintenance of order and propriety, are a sufficient guarantee as to the morals and behaviour of the pupils are carefully attended to.
The different branches taught in the English Grammar School comprise the English, French and Spanish languages, History, Geography, Arithmetic, and Book-keeping in all its parts, Writing, and Religious Instruction.
Extra branches, such as Latin, Mathematics, Music, Fencing, and Drawing, are also taught by special masters.
The situation of the English Grammar School, is one of the most delightful Quintas of the Calle Larga of Barracas, at the very gates of the city, in one of the most healthful and picturesque of the environs of Buenos Ayres.
For particulars apply for prospectuses at the Standard Office, Calle Belgrano 74.
